CATALOGUE

Hey, I'm the Boss Bird!

I am a busy mum of 3, a wife, a boss to a team of staff, a multiple business owner, a photographer, a P/t model, a writer, an influencer, an entrepreneur and an owner of a cat called Archie!

To go with all that busy stuff I am also a hair loss sufferer having had alopecia for the last few years and losing my once long blonde locks, I have Endometriosis and suffered since age 16 and a number of other auto immune deficiencies causing me daily pains!

So whats all that got to do with planners I hear you say, well to make sure I could squeeze all that in, as well as being constantly ill, I needed to create a planner that helped me stay on track, keep me in the lines, keep my head above the water.... basically to get through each day successfully and efficiently!

I have read many business books, ones that help me eat the frog (yep Eat the Frog.. google it) guide me, influence people, manage people, prioritise, customise and to get that rise! I've read them all and from those books and life skills, I have taken the best bits and developed them into a weekly tear sheet desk planner, Task List pads and both daily and weekly planner journals to help you function through multi tasking... just as us ladies know best!
